MT ATHOS The planned SV1GA/A operation set originally for last week-end was finally indefinitely postponed after some temporary rescheduling. A note in mid-week from OH2BH noted that it was not possible to locate air transportation into the Rhodes airport and that the deteriorating political situation made any plans to operate from Mt. Athos a somewhat hazardous project.

Martin noted that they had got all the way down to the line but were left clutching their airline tickets in hand but with no way to travel. The plan had been to travel from Helsinki to Rhodes and from there on to Athens. Even as the weekend came on, the news reports continued to carry reports of sporadic battles around the airport on the island as the two factions sought to maintain an advantage. Contact with SV1GA/A was lost during a schedule a week ago though Martin may have been able to reestablish communications later in the week.

Whatever has happened to postpone things, Martin has not cancelled the plans but has only postponed them. As soon as the political situation clears, not only on Rhodes but in Greece itself, the plans will be reactivated.

Reports were that the Greek troops were massed in the Thessalonika area along the border with Turkey and this included troops in the Mt. Athos area being on a war footing.

Possibly things will quiet down soon but you can gauge your chances to hear SV1GA/A by checking the morning and evening newspapers.

TOKELAUS Word last week was that the group planning for ZM7 have obtained licenses and that the tentative plans are aimed for the October 15th period, the big hurdle being transportation. If the hope for space on a boat headed for the Tokelaus, they will bring ZM7 on the air for a couple of months including some big plans for the WW CQ Test at the end of October.

ZM7AH has been issued to Jim Henderson, WB6CZB. ZM7AI has been issued to Tom Hawkins, 5W1AR/KH6HDA/WA7LFD. During the CQ test they will sign ZM7AJ. The plans are to operate C.W. and SSB, ten through eighty meters with ZM7AH concentrating on the c.w. and ZM7AI looking for the SSB needs. There are still some matters to be ironed out with KH6HDA planning a quick trip to the mainland to corner some needed gear including a generator. Some reports coming from diverse directions have mentioned one or the other calls in ZM7-Tokelaus plans. This is a joint effort and at this time is the only one aimed at that Pacific group. QSLs for this plus the current 5W1AL action go to W5UBW.

AVES Hurricane ALMA was reported to have brushed Aves though the main intensity of the storm was further south on the Venezulean coastal area. It is report that some of the antennas on Aves were whipped to the ground by the winds. The station plans to be on Aves until August 24th and will be at 14210kc starting about August 19th....from 1130Z to 1200Z. KV4FZ has been keeping a schedule on forty with the research group....7158kc/1100Z though sometimes the copy is a bit difficult. The station has been intermittently reported as being active on twenty, operating with battery power.

SLIM?? W2AIM rises to point in wrath that someone keeps nominating him as the QSL Manager for a variety of phoney calls. He suspects the source may be Queens Slim close by Long Island Sound. Among the calls were 5X5SL/TY6ATE/5A1LT plus some others. W2AIM says its easy to figure things out....he QSL manager for no one. Absolutely!! W1NXZ shows up on 75mtrs in the North East corner at times. This is an unassigned call. Automatic phoney!! BV2W has been heard...gives W6MMG as QSL Manager. Al, W6MMG, asks that no QSLs be sent to him...he knows nothing about Taipei Slim. Many JAs and UAs coming looking for QSLs.
